Everyone has the right to dream, but not everyone has the willpower to make it come true. Finding the right passion is the first step, but without perseverance, hard work, and a significant amount of luck, you'll never see your dream come true. Here are five common mistakes people make when they start their career and how to avoid them: 1. Choosing the wrong passion Successful people know what they want. They understand what their strengths and weaknesses are, and they're willing to work on what they need to improve. They know what motivates them and what doesn't. They know that the chances of succeeding at something are much greater than failing. They know to never give up, no matter what. 2. Not choosing a passion
