Kelly McCann dead after she was seen hanging out of a window of home in Far North in Queensland This article is more than 2 years old This article is more than 2 years old A 23-year-old woman has been found dead hanging out of a bedroom window of her Far North Queensland home. Emergency services were called to Far North Queensland Community Legal Centre on the mid-north coast around 10am on Saturday after staff there called police about a woman hanging out of a window. Police, who were searching the area for a man in connection with a suspicious death, initially believed the woman was dead. Officers were called to the property and the woman was removed from the window. There was no indication she had been killed, and a spokeswoman from the coroner's office said a medical examination found no cause of death. The woman was taken to hospital for treatment, police said. Investigators said they were initially treating the incident as a potential suicide. Il Black Flag. Q: Show a counter in mysql that counts number of hits I'm still learning MySQL and one thing I can't seem to figure out is, how to show a counter that counts up. Right now I'm using LAST_INSERT_ID() What I want is, when I hit a button a counter should change so people can check how many visits each page has made, so that I can tell how much traffic the page has had and I can now include some things into the page that only people that have hit the page first do I don't know how to translate that into MySQL. This is my Page: this is my table: The page has the ID and the values of the table. A: Using Last_Insert_Id() is terrible. The only advantage is that you can tell people to come back later when they have seen the page again. The downside is that you can have a race condition so that somebody could get the same id as another person has just told. I'd strongly suggest that using a separate table for visit counters. The easiest thing to do is to use MyISAM and use InnoDB and then have the following table CREATE TABLE `sessions` (`id` int(11) NOT NULL AUTO_INCREMENT, `username` varchar(128) NOT NULL, `ip_address` varchar(255) NOT NULL, `user_agent` varchar(255) NOT NULL, `date_time` datetime NOT NULL, PRIMARY KEY (`id`), UNIQUE KEY `session_username_ip_agent` (`username`, `ip_address`, `user_agent`, `date_time`)) ENGINE=MyISAM; When a user hits the page, you add a row into this table and then you can easily fetch the count from there. MyISAM has no-locking on inserts so using this table can be beneficial. However this only gets you a count of people that have ever been on the page. If you want to get a count of active users, you'll need to store some sort of unique ID, such as a cookie, a session ID, or a phone number. Using a separate table for the
