No timezone could be found for the specified timezone in the configuration file Edit: this is what i am trying to achieve. The scope of this project is to build a calendar web app. I want to get date and time from the user and show it to him in a dynamic manner. There will be a button when user clicks which will show next day, previous day, today, next month, previous month or yesterday. My current calendar works fine if i specify a time. If i don't specify a time then i get error. Now time-zone is a nuisance. If i use a specific timezone like GMT+5:30 then my current implementation doesn't use that timezone and i am getting error. But the problem is when i specify a time it gives me timezone that is not there in the timezone list in the region drop down. I am trying to use moment.js in this project. I am passing the user input to a handler class as an object of type DateTime. The region drop down box has timezones from America, Asia, Europe, Africa, Middle-East, South-Africa, Australasia and Oceania. The time in the table is the time specified in the configuration file. I do not want to accept time zones. I have tried setting my timezone by using javascript in my app using the following code. var date = new Date(); var y = date.getFullYear(); var m = date.getMonth(); var d = date.getDate(); var h = date.getHours(); var min = date.getMinutes(); var sec = date.get

Acute encephalopathy associated with acute disseminated encephalomyelitis (ADEM) is a severe and diffuse neurological syndrome occurring in adult patients and in children after a viral infection. The clinical characteristics of ADEM in children are poorly known. We therefore analysed the clinical features of 15 children with ADEM and compared them with two groups of adult patients: 10 with multiple sclerosis (MS) with a relapsing-remitting course and 5 with ADEM with an isolated acute episode. Acute Encephalopathy was the presenting symptom in all 15 children. The diagnosis was confirmed in 11 patients by brain magnetic resonance imaging and 2 by cerebrospinal fluid examination. The first neurological deficit involved the pyramidal, cerebellar and brainstem systems in all children. It was followed by a progressive neurological deterioration with involvement of more than two motor and/or sensory 3e33713323
