3. Select Save. Choose Save As. Choose a name for the file, and click Save. You can also save your images to your hard drive from the File menu, but this is a very slow method. This is because you need to locate the image before you can save it. 4. Select the Layer menu and click the Layer Mask icon to create a new layer. Name the layer Mask. This layer will be used to create a mask to help you edit the image. 5. If you're using Photoshop Elements, use the Layer menu to create a new text layer. If you're using Photoshop, select Layer and then press the Ctrl/Cmd+T shortcut key to create a new text layer. The process is different depending on what version of Photoshop you have. 6. Type a layer name in the text box and then press the Enter key. The text layer appears on the work area. 7. Click the Layer menu, and then click the Add Layer Mask icon. This creates a layer mask for the text layer. 8. With the Layer Mask active, click the Layer menu and then select Fill. 9. Click the black color swatch in the Fill box, and change it to white. 10. If you're working with the original image (which is, of course, gray), select the White Color (or gray) swatch in the window on the right. Click the eye icon (next to the color name) to change it to the desired color. 11. Click the black color swatch again, and then change the color to white. 12. In the Layers palette, click Create Clipping Mask. 13. Click the Layer Mask icon to turn off the Layer Mask. Now you need to work on the photo and make it an improved version of the original. 14. Select the Layers palette and click the Add Layer Mask icon to create a new layer mask. 15. Click the Layer menu and then select Flatten Image. This creates a new flat layer. 16. Click the Layer menu and then select Rasterize Layer. 17. Select

The first town plat was laid out in 1829 by T.G. Yeatman and wife, Matthew and Mary York. Six original lots remain today, and the town is still commonly referred to as Yorktown.
