Well I had an exe on my phone for quite some time now and it was working fine. Then suddenly it doesn't work anymore. I went to exe oracle to download the.zip archive and extract it. But then my phone disconnected from the internet for some reason. When I tried to open the.zip file again, I got a message on the phone's screen saying that an unknown file was detected and that it wasn't associated with any antivirus program. So how can I use my file? It's a.xls file, not an.exe file. Best thing is to get it off the phone. It sounds like you have a virus. It will try to make itself more undetectable. Most antivirus will not detect it. They are designed to catch only the most common viruses. If you cannot install an antivirus program on the phone, you can use an online app for downloading to your phone. Here is a link you can try, it's free, A:How can I use my file? The question is how did this file get on your phone? Did you download it from somewhere? Perhaps another user or someone else in your family. If you have a virus on your phone that you did not install, you may have a virus that does not affect all phones and it will be very difficult to remove. If you cannot use your phone, get in touch with the person who brought this file to you and see if they can get it off your phone or if you can get their help to get it off your phone. Ask them what they did to get this file on your phone. How did they get the file onto your phone? If
