Fluxer Download: Fluxer is a downloader for files, images, links, and comments. It is currently in testing stage and we are looking for users to test, play with, and provide feedback as to how we can improve and fine tune the application. The application is currently in beta mode (stable with fixes) and will be tested at a slower rate until we have some revenue. Currently there is no financial support for Fluxer, and we do not plan to change that anytime soon. We intend on expanding our user-base to include service providers and providers of free or open-source content to free (as in free speech not free beer) users. Our thought is to provide a service to allow you to make your content free to the public to encourage visitors to your content. More features will be added as we need them, as funds allow. We do plan on creating a task queue once we gain more customers as it'll make the whole experience better. Please leave feedback on the application or any new feature requests on our bug tracker. Please use the application, play with it, or download it and provide feedback. Please also consider

What's New In?

Fluxer is an application that helps you download items from a number of websites in a single operation.

You can configure Fluxer to add, modify, and remove links from websites, specify the sites you wish to scan, and optionally restrict which links are downloaded to a folder. Fluxer saves your configuration to a XML file so you can quickly specify multiple websites and download items later from any Windows program without the need to re-enter configuration information. Fluxer supports the ability to batch-download multiple items from a single website. This is useful when you have a large number of items from a site you plan to use frequently and want to save time when checking for new links. Fluxer also has the ability to queue items for later download. This allows you to control which items you want to download later, even if you don't have immediate access to the site. The Main Screen: The main screen shows the results of a scan for links on a website. Links to images, files, and more are displayed in a tree format that is organized by the categories you configure. Some items are highlighted to give you a quick visual indication of what the item is. The Favorites list, which appears on the left side, contains the items you have configured to scan from any websites you have configured. The status of items in your Favorites list appears in the right side. Links, images, and files, are all displayed as a dark gray colored background with the name of the category they belong to (e.g., Web Links, and Images, respectively). Each category is divided into four sections. The top section is an "X" icon that will allow you to remove the category from your Favorites list. The first column of the section contains the name of the category, and the second column contains the number of items in the category. The third column contains the number of items in a given item in that category. The items below the icon are the items in that category that are not currently in your Favorites list. When you select an item in that section, it will be added to your Favorites list and the number of items will increment by one. You can select multiple items if you wish to download multiple items from a given category. The items you've selected will appear in the section with the checkmark icon (i

---
