I also tried to define with case class trait DoesSomething[T] { def getSomething() = //some stuf } case class MyClass[T](something: T) extends DoesSomething[T] { getSomething } A: You're close, but the answer is "not that way". Instead of class MyClass(something: T) extends DoesSomething[T] use class MyClass[T] { def this(something: T) = { this() // or just set fields on the class this.something = something this.something = 1 } def getSomething = something } If you do want to do what you're trying to do, try defining the class in scala as trait DoesSomething[T] { def getSomething(): T } class MyClass[T](something: T) extends DoesSomething[T] { def getSomething = something } NOT FINAL UNTIL TIME EXPIRES TO FILE REHEARING MOTION AND, IF FILED, DETERMINED IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF APPEAL OF FLORIDA

WASHINGTON — Former FBI Director James Comey, in his first public remarks about his firing, defended the bureau's decision to reopen its investigation into Hillary Clinton's email use and was critical of Attorney General Jeff Sessions for recusing himself. "The FBI should have been about the facts," Comey told a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing, a day after President Donald Trump fired him. Comey, who was fired Tuesday by Trump, was testifying before the Senate's Judiciary Committee about his book, "A Higher Loyalty: Truth, Lies and Leadership." "It should never be about anything other than the facts," he said. "Now that doesn't mean that they have to be great. It just means they should be true. And that's our mission." Comey, an 11-year veteran of the FBI, said it was his job to be independent of politics and that he worked to keep personal political opinions out of his work. Trump fired Comey on May 9, the day he was set to launch his book tour. "I sought to put personal bias out of my decisions and to do what's right even if that means facing consequences I might not like," Comey said. Trump's reasons for firing Comey, he said, were those laid out by Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein. "I was honestly concerned that he might stop the investigation of one of the most egregious examples of conduct unbecoming a former high-ranking official of the Department of Justice, that is, the Clinton email investigation," he said. "The FBI is the best of all parts of government because, unlike some, it is not part of the political process and not subject to political influence." Comey's criticisms of Sessions came moments later. He chastised Sessions for recusing himself from the investigation into Russia's interference in the election. Comey said he felt the recusal was driven by a political interest in opposing the candidacy of Clinton. "I'm not sure that the performance of his public duties … compelled him to recuse," Comey said. "The Department of Justice is supposed to be a place where no matter who you are or what you do or who you know, you are treated the same. That's what Bob was all about." Come
