People with high-level spells or weapons will easily outstrip your party members. You'll need to level up your person in order to progress through most of the areas. You can also get power-ups from killing enemies, although you might find that they're too powerful to be bought with your currency. If your situation is particularly difficult and you can't level up the person fast enough, here is a guide on how to reset your difficulty. There's also a hidden level called The Final Hell, but only Soul of Ogre can unlock it (quite simply, fight an Ogre in your party as much as you can). This is optional. The only way to level up the person is to spend in-game cash (you'll find it in a quest you can complete while in the overworld). Initially, your cash will be pretty low, so you'll want to save most of your money and use it for spells and weapons. You can also save up a lot of money using the secret shop. Save up enough and you're good to go! 5ec8ef588b
